Sparks are flying at Quakers Hill High School as rehearsals for their 2009 production "Relationships- Snapshots in Time" heat up.

This year's musical extravaganza, under the direction of Deborah Franco turns its gaze to the torrid, bewildering and often murky landscape of human affairs.

This year a cast of seventy young performers will avail their audience with cinematic and theatrical snapshots of love, friendship, family and enmity, drawing on a smorgasbord of entertaining classics like Gypsy, Chicago, To Sir with Love and powerful modern works like Revolutionary Road and Rent.

The talented cast will deliver an electrifying blend of acting, dancing, singing and instrumental prowess over the three night production period from Wednesday the first of July to Friday the 3rd.

So come and dare to expose yourself to a world of unrelenting stage biz mothers, serpentine brothers and insidious truths.

This QHHS production will prove that love, friendship, family and acquaintances are the catalysts for the spectacle that is life.
