QUAKERS Hill High School students are busily rehearsing for their annual major production, to be staged early next month.

This year's effort involves 70 students and is titled Relationships: Snapshots in Time.

Billed as a "musical extravaganza", the production is directed by Deborah Franco and promises to explore the "torrid, bewildering and often murky landscape of human affairs".

Depicted throughout the piece are scenes of love, friendship and family, backed by samples from several classic musicals and movies, including Gypsy, Chicago and To Sir With Love, as well as more contemporary works including Revolutionary Road and the acclaimed Broadway show Rent.

The talented young cast will deliver a blend of acting, singing and dancing.

The show will run for three nights from July 1 to 3, and will be staged in the school's hall.

Tickets: $10 (adults), $7 (concessions).

Details: 98371533.
